

IN DEDICATION OF

Coach Carroll F. Bradley

To one who served 29 years at Eastern Nazarene College as Dean of Men, Director of Athletics, Coach and Professor of Physical Education.

To one who after introducing intercollegiate basketball at Eastern Nazarene College, filled the position of head basketball coach for ninteen years. During this time fourteen straight years were without a losing season.

To one who himself graduated from Eastern Nazarene College, having among his honors election to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges".

To one who was a veteran of World War II (In Burma). He had a tryout with the Cincinnati Reds after the war as a baseball pitcher. ENC's Bradley baseball field has been named in his honor.

To one who has been described as:
an avid reader
a tall Kentuckian
a warm hearted Christian an outstanding coach
a molder of men
a lover of army stories, hugs, Doris

Professor Robert Howard

Professor Robert Howard is a 1966 Graduate of Eastern Nazarene College with a bachelor's degree in Music. He graduated from Kent State University in 1968 with an MA in Music, concentrating in trombone performance and minoring in music history and literature. He studied at the University of Kentucky from 1968 to 1974, and at Boston University from 1976 to 1980.

Professor Howard served as Instructor of Music at Asbury College for six years and was chairman and associate professor in the department music Trevecca Nazarene College before joining the ENC faculty in 1975. He has also coordinated the Opera Performance and Aesthetic Learning Institute at the college under the direction of Donna Roll. In addition to his many duties in the department of Music, he has served as the Minister of Music at Wollaston Church of the Nazarene and for 12 years has conducted the Choral Union.

SENIOR CLASS COUNCIL

You wake up in the morning, and lo! Your purse is magically filled with twenty-four hours of the magic tissue of the universe of your life. No one can take it from you. No one receives either more or less than you receive. Waste your infinitely precious commodity as much as you will, and the supply will never be held from you. Moreover, you can not drown the future. Impossible to get into debt. You can only waste the passing moment. You can not waste tommorow; it is kept for you.

Who's Who 1993-1994 Merica's Colleges and Universities

It seems like yesterday I was about to start college at the University of Delaware. There were only two weeks until I had to move in and all was taken care of; my class schedule, my room, and my roommate. I thank the Lord that He changed my mind at the last minute. It's hard to believe that so many friends, memories, and experiences were almost not a part of my life. My stay here was a bit shortened, but the three years I have been here will certainly not be soon forgotten.

As I begin to reflect on my experience at ENC, it is hard to believe that it is about to come to an end. The past four years at ENC have been fun, exciting, and rewarding. I have made many life long friends, and I have accomplished many goals. Because I did not want to attend ENC at first, I find it a little amusing that I have such fond memories. I was truly blessed with a wonderful roommate for three years- Erica Heartquist. She and I developed a friendship that will last forever. I was also blessed with a wonderful husband as a result of attending ENC. Who would have thought a Southern girl from Arkansas would end up marrying someone from Maine? It has been great to witness God's plan for my life unfold before my eyes. ENC has many encouraging and helpful professors. They have equipped me with the resources necessary to continue on to graduate school in pursuit of my dream. Thanks ENC for making me the person I am today!

My undergraduate career here at ENC has been shaped by many. There have been friends, classmates, faculty, and staff who have inspired, helped, or challenged me in some way. The dedication of Jean Kenney and Cliff Hersey to their responsibilities, has challenged me to strive to be more dedicated to what I do. Dr. Shea has helped me to look more closely at my abilities with his encouraging attitude and advising. Dr.s Kathy and Bob Frederich have modelled for me ways to develop a closer relationship with God, and at the same time strive for academic excellence. Dr. Sylvia Goodman has inspired me with her professionalism and constant desire to learn more about her discipline. Dr. McCormick's lectures and personal insight have challenged me to look deeper into my faith, and to seek to worship our Lord more faithfully in private and in community. There are several other faculty and staff who have unknowingly had an influence on my life. I only hope that some day I may be to another person what they have been to me.

Nathalie Essig

I have reason to be thankful for ENC. I thank Dr. Hall for teaching me to undestand and appreciate chemistry. His gentle nudges of guidance have inpressed many parts of my life. I thank Dr. Stark for his teaching too, and for his smile and good cheer in the department. I thank Professor Howard for staying loyal to God to the very end, and for being a model of humbleness and faith. I thank Gerry Wood for cultivating my enjoyment of God's green earth, and for being a special friend during my college years. I thank my big brother Jon for going first in life, and for being so generous and kind to me. I thank Steve Schmidt for being my roommate and best friend-we sure had a lot of fun. I thank John Anderson for his good spirit and wisdom about life. Truly, these memories and many others will be with me always.

Brad Grinnen

My experience at ENC has been a unique one. I've enjoyed the many friendships which I've been blessed with over my four years here. From them I have learned so much about who I am and who I am becoming. I wouldn't trade those experiences for all the money in the world, they will always be a part of my life. But the people who have had a life changing impact on me are the professors I've had in the religion department. Dr. McCormick and Dr. Braaten have influenced me in such an incredible way. It has been under their instruction that I have developed an incredible desire to continue my studies in the way of the lord. I am eternally grateful for their patience with me and their vision to instill a proper educational ethic. I thank God for how he has blessed me in this manner.

in the second was a star from a second

As I look back over my four years at ENC, I realize how much of an impact this school has had on me. Even though I went through a time of not knowing what I was supposed to be doing or where I was supposed to be, the Lord gently guided me in the path that He had for me. My appreciation for ENC is reflected by my spiritual walk. It's nice to look back on my time spent here and know that I have been exactly where the Lord wanted me. As I leave this stage of my life and journey into what is unknown to me, but known to the Lord, I thank Him and praise Him for leading me to ENC and for revealing Himself to me through my time here. Jeremiah 29:11

Denise Heizer

It is so exciting to look back and see the path I have followed in life and where it has led me today. When I first started on my journey here at ENC, I could never have imagined the places it would take me. While it hasn't always been easy or what I was expecting (social work!), I have learned that I can trust the Hand that guides me. The people (thanks friends!) and experiences of my four short years here have shown me that. As my mom always tried to teach me as I was growing up, during my time here at ENC I have finally found for myself that Romans 8:28 is true. It is because of this promise that I can relax in committing the rest of my way, however uncertain it may be, to Him. I can't wait to see what's next.

My experiences in college have been more than I imagined. I never thought I would graduate from a college on the East coast, being from Indiana. Many people have been influences throughout these 4 years, but the two who have impacted my life in the most positive way through my life are my parents. This may sound typical to some but I can't help it! My parents have put every ounce of time, energy, and love into their four kids. One of my fondest memories of college was recieving a phone call from my dad on a Thursday asking if it would be o.k. to come to my basketball game on Friday. Mom, dad, and my always supportive Grandpa drove from Indiana to Vermont for the weekend. What incredible support!! This may sound somewhat child-like, but I still think they're the greatest! I praise the Lord for my mom, dad & family for always revealing Christ to me in so many ways.

The time I've spent at ENC has been crucial to the development of my values, faith, and sense of identity. I've doubted, tested, and come out more confident and more trusting. My thanks to Dr. Steve McCormick and Dr. Kent Hill who have demonstrated Christian excellence. Thanks also to Prof. and "aunt" Carol who have truly been Godparents to me and who along with JanElle, mom & dad have dreamt big dreams with me. "Yes I am a dreamer, for a dreamer is one who can find his way by moonlight and see the dawn before the rest of the world." -Oscar Wilde

Could I be a Christian/If everybody knew/The secret thoughts and feelings/Of everything I do/Could they see the likeness/Of Christ in me each day/Could they hear Him speaking/In every word I say? Could I be called a Christian/If my faith I did not show/If I do not go to places/Where the Lord would have me go/ If I do not love His truth/If I do not guard His trust/If I cherish more than Jesus/My greatest hidden lust? To obey all He's commanded/To do all that He said/To place no confidence in the flesh/To glory in Christ Jesus/It's He who justifies/To find your life you must die/Let every man examine his own life/"Could I be called a Christian?" Could I be called a Christian/And believe not His Holy Word/If I take Him as my Savior/And then refuse Him as my Lord/If I could not love the outcast/And am not burdened for the lost/If I fail to deny myself/And each day take up my cross? -Steve Camp

Not long ago I found myself wondering why I had been blessed with favorable circumstances that allowed me to invest four years of my life at ENC. I realized that being brought up by caring Christian parents was not something about which I had a choice and that life did not owe this to me. I thank God for His blessings. Many remember their years in college as being the best ones in their lives. Realizing that life goes by quickly, I have tried to passoinately enjoy it to its fullest, while at the same time, attempting to diligently love and serve my Creator. I enjoy recalling many moments of listening, learning, talking, laughing, sharing, and caring that were part of my experiences at ENC, and I look forward to taking these moments with me into eternity. My parents have made a deeply significant and meaningful impact on my life. I am thankful to them and to my brother Will for their continued years of love, care, concern, and understanding. My roommate, Jeff Fisk, has become one of my best friends. I will timelessly treasure our talks, laughs, and adventures. Together, we have learned much about life. I have learned more deeply how satisfying it is to invest in others and develop profound friendships. I am grateful for the support and thoughtfulness of John Anderson, Jim Waltermire, Tod Story, and my other close friends. The concern, encouragement, and model of Christian excellence of my advisor, Professor, and friend, Dr. Daniel Shea, have played a key role in various aspects of my development at ENC. It is these qualities, possessed by Dr. Hill, Lowell Hall, Kathy Frederich, Don Yerxa, Steve McCormick, the Waltermires, and the other fine faculty, staff and administration of the college that deeply inspire many students to dedicate their lives to Christ and impact the world for Him.

Julie Stahlsmith

When I came to ENC four years ago I expected to get an education, I ended up with more than I bargained for. I found faculty and staff who I could relate to and who accepted me for who I was. My advisor and professor for many classes, Dr. Free, encouraged me to expand my mind, to push myself beyond what I thought I was capable of. Coach Detwiler and Janet Calhoun had faith in me when I didn't; they encouraged me not just as one on their players but as a person they genuinely cared for. There is one thing I've learned from all of them though, and that's the importance of self-sacrifice and investment in the lives of others. I've seen how they've shared not only my happiness but my burdens and sadness as well. I thank God for the opportunity to be taught by people so dedicated and willing to be used by Him.

I owe a lot to ENC. In just 4 years this school has helped me mature both academically and spiritually. I have had the opportunity to use my spiritual gifts as a Flocks leader, Inner-City Ministry Coordinator, and Director of Student Ministries. I also treasure the 3 fantastic years of the Varsity Baseball team. I owe a lot to my professors as well. They have modeled for me what true Christian living is all about - it is a matter of applying your theology to practical everyday life. This is a lesson I will not forget. Thank you E.N.C.

My years at ENC have been spread out over many activities and subject areas. As I look back over the four years, varied elements blend together in my memories: academics, friends, Campus Camera, the Center for Academic Services... There are many people and events that have impacted my life and remain a part of me. The faculty, especially, have been a very positive influence on my college career - in particular Dr. Giberson, Drs. James and Ruth Cameron, and Prof. Fiacco. Thank you for your guidance, support, and tutilage. To Valerie Nyce I give special thanks. You model a Christ-like attitude and the Spirit of ENC! Your support and guidance throughout the years has meant more than you could know! It will be hard to work for anyone else. I thank God that through all my wanderings He continutes to bless my life and care for me.

Paul Wilson

My time at ENC has been filled with a variety of emotions. I have shared in the joys, pains, triumphs, and failures of my friends as will as those of my own. Through it all, I have seen my friends and myself grow. I personally, have tried to learn from and build on each experience, good and bad. Many people have helped me in this endeavor. To these many friends and professors who challenged me to perform at levels I never thought I could, and always kept me looking towards the next level. Those of you who wanted to know Paul Wilson the person and not just Paul Wilson the student, did more for me than I could explain on this page. I came to ENC with more answers than I am leaving with, but I understand life better now than when I arrived.

1 Stop Here Once More

After the flowers have been removed and people have all gone home, I stop here once more before leaving. To do what, I do not know. Perhaps to say hello, but probably to say goodbye. To live the life you left behind. A stone is not yet in place. You are marked by grassless dirt waiting for the warm spring rain to lift life out of this dead. cold ground you lay beneath. I kneel down beside you in my black suit as tears run down the inside of my dark glasses. A few of my closest friends are near yet I've never felt so isolated and alone.

Two workmen are raking the lawn beside us. I put my hand on the earth above your dead heart. They pretend not to see I am crying, instead they continue to rake going about their business. They turn back to see if I noticed them. They are used to this. The raking. The grief. I mumble a few words thinking you may hear, hoping others around would not, but as hard as it is, I know the truth: Though from this ground plant life will spring, yours will not.

Your body has drowned in this sea of clay to remain forever. For you darkness came early, but to me the night will seem an eternity. Two workmen hurriedly rake on, traffic is heard from behind, adults go to work, children laugh and play in the park and this instance embedded in my memory for the rest of my days upon this earth. Chris, I know the truth: Your body in the cold casket below is not what I loved. It was the friendship, which I will always miss. Scott Campell •53 pleased to congratulate you on your graduation from Eastern Nazarene College. I trust time here at ENC has been fruitful and valuable, and that you will always look back with great affection on your years at ENC.

In I Peter 3:15, we are admonished to "Always be prepared to give the reason for the hope that you have." At ENC we have always sought to do just that.

* We have endeavored to respond faithfully to Christ's command: "Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength." (Mark 12:30)

Your education was based on the assumption that the mind is a divine gift, and one which we are instructed to utilize in the expression of our love for God.

* Your liberal arts core curriculum testified to the unity of all truth, for all truth is God's truth. The life of the mind was celebrated. The ability to think clearly praised.

*We have provided you with specialized instruction in a particular major or specialty, which has helped you to prepare for whatever vocation you have chosen.

* The spiritual environment we endeavored to create — chapel, flock groups, curriculum requirements in religious topics, and a firmly committed Christian faculty — provided you an opportunity to recognize that the most important decisions you would ever face would be ones of the will and the heart. The mind is a precious instrument, but unless guided by a will properly oriented, a conscience faithfully nurtured, and a heart overflowing with God's love, service to the Creator will not be achieved.

*We provided an atmosphere in which the joys of God's creation were appreciated and cherished. The treasures of Christian friendship, which will remain with you throughout your lives, is undoubtedly one of the most wonderful gifts that ENC has helped you to embrace.

These, and many other things besides, we have tried to provide for you during your college years. We have undoubtedly failed you on occasion, or fallen short of our own goals and expectations. But we trust that the grace of God has allowed us to achieve at least some of what we set out to do.

The ball is now in your court. For it is the responsibility of each of us to determine how faithful we will be to the truth which by God's grace we have been allowed to see. My prayer for each of you is that you will enjoy the full measure of meaning which comes only from seeking always to be in the center of God's will.

FRESHMEN COUNCIL... WOW! It seems hard to believe that by the time you read this the class of 1997 will have survived their first year and first class council at ENC. The freshmen council consisted of President Scott Raley; Vice-President Melissa Boop; Administrative Assistant Barbara Brenner; Social Life Rep. Mark Scott; Chaplain Paul Ragland; and Social Activities Director Heather Long. We were a very exited council, wanting to start our first year off at ENC with a big BANG. We had so many ideas and plans for the class of 1997 that we sometimes overwhelmed ourselves with the various responsibilities that entailed our projects, but we always managed to get the jobs done. Nothing that we accomplished the past year, though, could have been possible without the enthusiasm of our classmates. As a class we made our presence known on campus and even succeeded in winning the first annual "Classiest Class" award during Homecoming week. All in all the 1993-1994 freshmen class council started the class out on the right note and are excited about what is to come in the next three years.

As we finished our second year of college we are halfway done. Most of us have settled with our own friends, developed relationships, and hopefully decided what our major is. Each class looks forward to new activities. We look back as a council to see what we have accomplished. Our first activity, freshmen and sophomore picnic, was rained out. The sophomore class had thier first costume party and we are looking forward to ENC's Most Wanted which was a big hit last year!! We helped the freshmen class organize a blood drive. The council was responsible to decorate the student center for Thanksgiving. Every Thursday evening we sell bagels which is a hot item here at ENC. The class council hopes that the next two years will be full of memories for each of you.

I think we can say without a doubt that our lives hae been changed by our ENC experience. Our class came in three years ago as wild, obnoxious (OK, not all of us) freshmen. We,ve learned that all-nighters and perfect class attendance do not mix. Neither does Newcomb farms $1 breakfast and a shapely figure. And the eight flights of stairs to fourth Munro get easier as the year goes on.

Most importantly, we've learned the value of committed friendships and developing a personal relationship with our God. No longer are we relying on the faith of our parents, but on our own faith in God. Through this commitment, we've come to realize that the Spirit really does make the difference. And that difference is one that we will carry into our lives holding onto the commitment made here at ENC.

Hosea 6:3 - "Let us acknowledge the Lord; let us press on to know him. As surely as the sun rises, He will appear."

FOR the first time since 1974, The Crusader's Men's Soccer Team has posted back to back winning seasons. This year's 11-6-2 record was the best since 1978 (12-4-1). Coach Giovanni A. Pacini has seen his team continue to improve since his arrival in 1990. That year, the Crusader's finished at 3-12-1. Records of 7-10-0, 10-9-1, and 11-6-2 have not only shown an increase in the number of wins, but also adramatic improvement in the overall level of play. Once again, Rob Hutchinson of Weymouth, MA led the way on offense pouring in 20 goals and assisting on 5 others. Rob Huthcinson was not the only offensive threat this year. A well balanced attack saw Mike Thibeau (Weymouth, MA 12-11, 35 pts.), Eric Hughes (Bethel Park, PA 6-9, 21 pts.) and Nick Xayavong (Weymouth, MA 8-4, 20 pts.) contribute to a team total of 56 goals. Fullbacks Tom and Dan Olsen, brothers from Sparta, NJ, combined for 6 goals and 10 assists. Defensively Eastern Nazarene College tightened up in 1993

Defensively Eastern Nazarene College tightened up in 1993 giving up 12 fewer goals than in 1992. Senior Co-Captain David Cawthorne displayed superior ability at the sweeperback position. He will be surely missed as he graduates this year. Sophomore Jason Barry (Pembroke, MA) was strong as the "marking back", shutting down most of the opposition's better players.

For the third straight year, Junior Dan Collins of Pembroke, MA, remained outstanding in the goal. While maintaining a "sub 2.00" goals against average, he was invaluable at starting a counterattack with his long drop kicks. Dan has also been nominated as a Co-Captain for 1994 along with Eric Hughes.

The 1993-1994 season saw the return to winning ways for the Crusader Volleyball team. With overall consistent play, the women were competitive in all their matches. Senior Co-captains Julie Detwiler and Julie Stahlsmith provided strong leadership as well as a smart offensive and defensive play. Junior, Kim Trout combined with Freshman, Colleen Gallagher in handling the setting responsibilities. Rebecca Miller, a returning Junior, was the team's most consistent server, missing only 10 out of 481 serves (98%). Newcomer Lara Rines added strength to the defensive as well as another option to the front row attack. Second year player, Stacia Shute, served as a strong seventh player, assuming secondary setter responsibilities. Junior, Kristen Keen gave the team versatile play both as a server and front row attacker. Sophomore, Joy Phillips along with Freshmen, Melinda Roberts and Shantel Sage provided strong support when called upon and showed steady improvement throughout the season. As a result of solid team play, the Crusaders went undefeated at home (15-0) while on their way to a 25-10 season.

The 1993-'94 women's tennis program took a step forward this year finishing with a record of 5 wins and 6 losses. the Crusaders started the season quickly, winning 4 of their first 5 contests, before fading to a strong schedule during the half of the season. Eastern Nazarene College finished in third place at the Commonwealth Coast Conference Tournament, with a new partner this year Allison Heizer.

The future looks bright for the Women's Tennis Program, with all but Tammy Wilber back for another step forward next year.

This was a great year for ENC Cross Country. With full teams for men and women ENC was well represented.

The women's team paced with five runners, had a very encouraging season. The Lady Crusaders were led by freshman Kristina LaPlante and captain Laura Thornhill. Through hard work and dedication, the ladies improved consistently over the season. Their highlight was strong 2nd place at Massachusetts Maritime Academy. Kristina LaPlante finished 2nd in this meet, her highest place in the season.

The men's team was also extremely competitive, not just against rival teams but also amongst themselves. With 12 talented runners competing for 7 varsity sports, the men pushed themselves to a higher level. The highlight for their season was a hard earned win at Massachusetts Maritime Academy. This was the time in at least 7 years that ENC has beaten every team at an invitational.

It was a great season for all involved in ENC Cross Country. With hard work and support this could be the start of great things for this team.

The 1993-1994 Men's Basketball team completed its second winning season in a row with 17-8 record. After a slow 3-6 start, the Crusaders won 14 of their last 16 games, including a ten game winning streak and a first place regular season finish in the Commonwealth Coast Conference.

Three of the teams six seniors reached the 1000 point milestone during the season. Jeff Seabron finished his career with 1303 points, which places him 14th amongst the ENC's all time scoring leaders. Cory Loftus and Anthony Jennings finished 23rd and 24th on the all time scoring list and finished with 1020 and 1019 points respectively.

Other awards earned during the season included Kobie Smith, named to the all tournament team at the Plymouth State Tournament. Coy Overpeck was named first team all Commonwealth Coast Conference. Jeff Seabron was named Most Valuable Player of the Conference, as well as Honorable Mention All-American.

The 1993-1994 Women's Basketball team showed much improvement over last year, finishing with a better overall record and climbing to 5th place in the Commonwealth Coast Conference. The year was highlighted with wins over a tough Wentworth squad, and our first victory over Curry in nine years. Improvement was shown not only in the won-loss column, but in the team's play. Although both graduating seniors Tammy Wilbur and Beth Clark will be sorely missed, next year the team figures to be much stronger.

Individual highlights begin with first-team All-Conference selection Amy Cunningham. Only a sophomore, Amy was second in the league in both scoring (17.9 ppg) and rebounding (12.5 rpg). She finished the season with a two year total of 640 points and 498 rebounds. Sophomore, co-captain Tammy Swartzlander, also led the conference with an amazing 7.3 assists per game. Junior, Tracy Gardner was the leader in 3- point field goals, hitting them at a 46% clip. Junior, Co-Captian Darcy DiFrederico, the second leading scorer at 11.0 ppg, displayed strong team leadership, on and off the court. Freshmen, Jeff Jones was a pleasant surprize at forward, averaging 6 points and 7 rebounds per game. Sophie Rutledge, Erin Van Lew and Team Chaplain Tracy Roberts also made some strong contributions.

Once again the Crusader Cheerleaders have proved their enthusiasm and team spirit. The cheerleaders are to be commended especially for they hard work and diligence in practices and games. Also, their dedication to school representation and spirit cannot go unnoticed. They faced several challenging experiences both on the court and off, and still continued to show excellence in their performance. The Cheerleaders learned a lot about their purpose as models of leadership and not of competition.

It was tough year as one member was hurt even before the season began and four members withdrew form the team due to personal reasons. But our spirits didn't have time t fall before three new people joined the team with excitement and lots to offer. Recognizing how important each member is and the loss felt when one is out injured, we created anew twist by adding tow alternates to help as spotters during practices and fill in empty spot during the games. They gave great effort and were ready to help and jump in a s needed. This year's team consisted of five veteran members- so next year is sure to be an experienced and promising team.

A few of the season highlights were new uniforms, participating in three away games, and cheering for an excellent team a the semi-finals. A big thanks to the athletic department for all of their support and encouragement this year. It was each cheerleader's intention to help promote enthusiasm and energy in the basketball players as well as the fans. They tried and they succeeded!

The 1994 Crusader Baseball Team experienced another exciting season. Coach Jack Willy and the team flew south this year for Spring Training. They participated in the 27th Christian College Baseball Tournament held in Homestead, Florida.

While in Florida, Senior Captains: Jake Hart, Mike Malba, and Aaron Hassinger worked the team in defense fundamental, power hitting, and aggressive base running. With only 8 returnees and 7 first year players, the young team had a lot of work to do. After a week of intensive baseball the team came home ready to play.

This year's record of 5-11, does not reflect the higher level of play the team achieved. A thrashing of conference foes Anna Maria 9-0, Roger Williams 12-2, Wentworth 11-8, and Gordon 6-0 proved the Crusaders could score runs and play defense.

Those tough one-run losses in the last inning to St. Joe's, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, and in the conference playoffs to Wentworth hurt the overall record. Outstanding offensive play by injured Jake Hart, freshmen Jeremy Anderson, and Tad Reed carried the Crusader Offense. Steady consistent defense by Aaron Hassinger, Mike Malba, Mike DeLuise, and Chris Herrick kept us very balanced.

Superb pitchers performances were turned in by Dan Jozefik, Steve Beiler, and Jake Hart.

The 1993-'94 Crusader Softball Team was comprised of a special group of women. While showing improvement over the course of the season, they worked hard and gave it their all in every game.

Joanne Letters proved to be a durable and effective pitcher, handling the bulk of the pitching duties and showing excellent control. Co-captain Tammy Swartzlander, while leading the team in batting average, stolen bases, runs scored, and assists, proved to be one of the strongest players in the Conference. Newcomer Naomi Walker played a strong second base and was second on the team in runs scored. Returner Kristen Keen anchored third base while contributing some timely hitting. Tammy Wilber, Co-captain, played a strong first base and was an effective bunter. Freshman center fielder, Colleen Gallagher led the team in put outs and used her strong arm effectively while covering a lot of ground in center field. Classmate Doreen Nash, played left field while also leading the team in walks. Junior Heather Angell, returned for another season and made a positive contribution to the team from her right field position. First year players Catherine Herdman and Shantel Sage saw playing time at both right field and second base, contributing in both positions. Anita Tamburro, Freshman, was an effective relief pitcher while also playing a supportive role in right field. The catching duties were handled by Julie Bertocchi whose strong arm cut down a number of would be stealers. With the loss of only two seniors, next year's season looks promising.

Mike and Gene in action!

Social Life

Well-what a year...Intense! We started out the year with a toga party, (Christina, how's your head?). We then moved on to our annual Harbor Cruise, (anyone see the mike cords?). Homecoming went great, but please...don't remind me of the twenty hours before 10:00pm that night. We've seen Code of Ethics (...they're still here, Amy!?), Tony Vincent (if only he wasn't engaged, Renee), The Newsboys (WOW), Phil Keaggy, The 77's, and Prayer Chain, all in concert here at ENC. We shot through the year and ended with the Lip Sync, (with a little help from...Sloppy Joe, Slop, Sloppy Joe...). But the true success for me is making sure everyone that got involved had fun, and from feedback it looks like everyone did. The eason why is not me, but the great Social Life Council I had. They truly are the ones to thank! Without hem, I couldn't have done anything. They ranged from the main council: Joanna Rapljie, Amy Lambalot, stacia Shute and Heather Long, to over 30 volunteers, including security, labor and decorating. Thank you, in the most deepest way. Lets's keep the enthusiasm, and get ready for another year that will be even better!

On January 1994, six students along with Professor Lomba, embarked on a study abroad in the French West Indies. Our first stop was in Martinique, an island located between Dominique and Saint Lucie. The next island we visited was Guadeloupe. This island is located between Antigua and Dominique. Both islands were discovered by Christopher Columbus during the Age of Explora-

Each member of the group was given the opportunity to live with a family for the duration of thestay in the French West Indies. The group visited the countryside, and ate the various cuisines that were offered. The goal of the entire trip was to enhance the students knowledge of the French language, history and economy of the Antilles-Français. We also learned to appreciate and respect the people of a multicultural society.

ALL SCHOOL OUTING

The annual all-school outing turned out to be a beautiful day. Everyone had fun playing basketball, soccer, football, volleyball, and just relaxing in the sun A cookout was served for lunch and everyone enjoyed the day.

The all-school camping trip was a weekend trip into Saco, Maine.

Canoeing down 20 miles of the Saco River and camping overnight, the campers had a unique camping experience. Despite equipment loss and adverse weather conditions the campers remained in high spirits and made the most of their time together.

"Uh, what do we do now?"

A NOTE FROM OUR KING...

Homecoming '93 was a tremendous opportunity, one which I will always remember. When I came to E.N.C. as a freshman, I was very quiet and self-conscious. The only person I was ever seen with was my best friend and roommate, Tim Farrell. Since then I have gradually become more involved in school activities and have taken the opportunity to get to know my fellow students. I remember that playing on the Varsity baseball team my freshman year greatly helped me in this process. The next year I continued to play baseball, became Inner-City Ministries Coordinator, a Flocks leader and a friend to more and more people. Now looking back, it is amazing how quickly three years have gone by. Now I am a senior, with a higher self-esteem. It was difficult for me not to feel more confident about who I was as a person — my peers elected me to the position of Student Ministries Director and then to the Homecoming court several months later. I could not believe it. I do not consider myself very popular, but I guess that did not matter. It also did not matter how athletic I was or how I looked. People managed to get to know me for who I am: Craig Taylor, a quiet example of how God can use anyone in His service. You see, all I wanted to do is allow God to use me, while I was at E.N.C. and in my

I never expected to be treated with such royalty. When Mr. and Mrs. Jack McInturff called my name as the new Homecoming king, it took me awhile to realize what happened. I remember just standing there like I was paralyzed. I also could not remember what I was supposed to do, so I just stood there for several seconds. Then I slowly walked down to Tim Ebo to be crowned. When I asked him if he really had to put the crown on me he said, "I'm sorry Craig, they did it to me last year." So I wore it — for about five seconds. Sarah Wilcox was announced as the queen, and then came the many, many pictures. I really did not feel deserving of such attention. It actually made me uncomfortable. And when the gym lights came on and everyone found their parents to share the special moment with them, I found Tim Farrell (still my roommate), his fiancee Tracy Kelly. and Tamara Francis, my girlfriend. The picture taking, the Phantom, the ice cream social, and the coronation were all very enjoyable, but the best part of Homecoming '93 for me was the respect and appreciation I felt from my peers here at E.N.C. That is what allowed me to celebrate Homecoming so far from

A NOTE FROM OUR QUEEN...

To be honest I always thought it would be neat to be a homecoming queen. It was right up there with being a soap opera star, or a supermodel for me and so when my name was even announced, I was shocked. Yet becoming the queen wasn't the only highlight of the coronation experience, in reality I had more fun actually preparing for the evening.

Whether it be posing for photos with Scott in front of an old 50's jukebox or getting kicked out of the Braintree park, I enjoyed spending time with the other coronation candidates and had a chance to get better acquainted with them, too! The Homecoming weekend itself was a great success. It was nice to see some new and old traditions tried and talking with some former ENC queens was neat too!

The memory of homecoming weekend will stay with me forever and will be one of my favorite experiences at ENC.

Amy R. Zimmerman 121 Shadroe Lane Salem, N.J. 08079 Yo, Yo, Yo! The year is finally coming to a close. It was a lot of work but definitely worth it. We had a great staff this year and would like to thank each and every one of you for your hard work and dedication. We had to scrimp and save in order to get paid, THANK YOU JEA!!! Jea kept us in line(as much as that is possible. I still want my coat rack Jea! and the new desk!!!) The phone was too necessary. No but seriously, Jea was an excellent business manager and without him we would never have met our budget. He deserves a gold star. And then there was Hilary. Are you Guphy? I think he got lost.

By the way the computer lab is located in the basement of the library. All of you who NEEDED a computer, it's called NOT PROCRASTINATING. We are all old enough to be organized, this is college. Just kidding guys. We still love you, even if you drove us crazy.

Putting together a yearbook is a lot more work than most people realize. Unless you have done one by yourself, one will never fully realize the time and effort that it takes. Remember this before you criticize us next year. If you have something to say, try doing it yourself first. But we are proud to say that we never had to pull any all-nighters. It wasn't easy but it's over now soooo, who cares.

And to Bonnie and Dave (ladies first, guys) we wish you the best of luck and if you have any questions feel free to ask. The most important person to find is your business manager, choose very carefully. Good luck and Caio Baby!

Love, BooBoo and Me
